

Food Ranks High in Kelowna Budgets

(Special to The Courier)

NEW YORK—The average Kelowna family is spending more of its money for food than for any other consumer product but one, according to the results of a study of spending patterns in Canada and in the United States. The exception is automotive equipment.

Either local residents are eating more than they did before or they have developed more expensive tastes, evidenced by diets consisting of more meat, fruit and vegetables and less bread and potatoes. Whatever the reason, the fact is that their food bill reached $3,294,000 in the past year. It was $3,010,000 in 1955.

The amount is for food bought in the local meat markets and in grocery and vegetable stores and the like for home consumption. It does not include the amount spent in restaurants and in other dining and drinking places.

The survey report, by Sales Management reveals the manner in which people in the various parts of Canada spend their money.

It shows that people's indulgence in more and better food goes hand in hand with increased earnings and reflects a rising standard of living.

The year's food bill in the city, if apportioned equally among the local population, would represent an outlay of $1,315 per family.

This was above the Canadian average, $735 per family. In the Province of British Columbia, it was $654.

Kelowna families, it means, used 18 percent of their spendable dollar for eatables.

Bigger food bills are due in part, it is shown, to the growing use of "convenience foods" such as frozen products and heat-and-serve meals.

Locally, increased spending was noted, also, in other lines of retail business covered by the study. There was a general inching upward. Part of it, however, is attributed to higher prices.

Retail outlets for autos and other automotive equipment had sales of $3,872,000 in the year, amounting to 21 per cent of all retail business.

General merchandise stores amounted for $1,471,000 another 8 per cent.

Home furnishings stores did $833,000, equal to 5 per cent and drug stores, $274,000, or almost 2 per cent.

U.S. CAPTAIN GETS LIFE FOR TREASON

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The U.S. 2nd Air Force today announced a life sentence against a captain for trying to sell atomic secrets to Russia. The man was identified as Capt. George H. French, 38, of Mount Vernon, N.Y., a bombardier on a B-36 crew.

The air force said French was stationed at a Caribbean base and was on leave in Washington, D.C., and New York City last April when the offence occurred.

RCAF Repels Army During NATO Practice

METZ, France (CP) — The RCAF has repelled the Canadian Army in a six-day NATO exercise in Europe.

The all-Canadian exercise, given the code name "Dispersal," was designed to test the RCAF air division's ability to guard key positions against infiltration. The exercise, which ended today, was held in conjunction with NATO Exercise.

About 700 personnel from the RCAF air division near Metz set up field headquarters under mock war conditions. The enemy force was provided a company of the Royal 22nd Regiment.

Ottawa and Victoria Differ On Flu Issue

Time Required Confirm Asian 'Flu' States MHO

Some time is required before a definite case of Asian 'flu' can be confirmed, according to Dr. D. A. Clarke, medical director of the South Okanagan Health Unit.

Dr. Clarke was commenting on the report that the world-spreading Asian 'flu' was the cause of a death at Prince Rupert earlier this week.

In the ordinary course of events, Dr. Clarke pointed out, it would take up to three weeks before an actual case of the Asian type of influenza can be positively identified.

The South Okanagan has a good health record, at the present time, Dr. Clarke added. He said valley residents seem to be intensely interested in developments, particularly with regard to the vaccine that has been prepared in eastern Canada in limited quantities to offset Asian 'flu'.

VACCINE COMING He still was unable to say definitely when the vaccine would arrive in Kelowna. "As far as I know, there is none in B.C. yet," said Dr. Clarke.

Priority lists already have been published and Dr. Clarke doubts if all divisions of community life give the vaccine could be accommodated.

AMYOT SAYS SCARE HAS MUSHROOMED

VICTORIA (CP) — Provincial health authorities warned that the so-called Asian 'flu' has mushroomed out of all proportion.

"The situation is not serious at all," said Dr. G. F. Amyot, deputy minister of health. "Somebody is trying to whip it into something serious. There's no need for anyone to get panicky."

Truth of the matter was that complications from Asian 'flu' were milder and fewer than ordinary flu, he said.

The department sent four or five virus samples off to Ottawa to be examined but so far no reply has been received here as to whether the samples were the Asian flu bug.

Reports from Ottawa said the examination of B.C. specimens shown there had definitely been cases of the Asian flu in the province.

"Ottawa hasn't bothered to tell us anything, so far as we are concerned there have been no cases of Asian flu reported and that's the way it will stand until we hear from Ottawa," said the deputy minister.

Many Communities Affected Says Federal Health Minister

By ALAN DONNELLY CANADIAN PRESS STAFF WRITER

Outbreaks of influenza, apparently more widespread than is normal for this time of year, have hit many communities across Canada.

Indications are strong that much of it is Asian flu—a brand new strain of influenza which turned up in the Far East within the last year and has spread, virtually unchecked, through many countries.

Asian flu is relatively mild but is capable of spreading at top speed wherever it appears. Since it is a new type of flu, the natural immunities which put a check-rein on other flu strains have not yet been built up.

VACCINE DEVELOPED An Asian flu vaccine, believed effective as a preventive, has been developed and distribution in Canada will start next month.

Some 600,000 doses are expected to be available up to the end of the year, with another 600,000 or more produced in the first three months of next year.

Reports from abroad of cases where Asian flu has reached epidemic proportions indicate that between 10 and 15 per cent of the population can be affected. This could throw an inconvenient monkey wrench into the complex life of a Canadian town or city.

DEATH RATE LIGHT

Fortunately, the experts say, there is relatively little stomach sickness accompanying the present outbreaks. They add that the Asian flu death rate, found in experience abroad, is about one in every 5,000 cases.

SOME CASES PROVEN

Federal Health Minister J. Waldo Monteith said Asian flu cases had been proven in four provinces, Ontario, Quebec, Alberta and British Columbia. Reports from the provinces indicated these totalled only a handful of cases.

At Winnipeg, a provincial official said Manitoba also has had two books.

2nd Explosion Hits Gas Line

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Trans-Canada natural gas pipeline exploded for the second time in a week today about 12 miles south of Winnipeg.

There were no injuries and no damage to buildings when the roaring blast occurred in a farm field at 7:15 a.m. The flash was visible in the city as flames shot an estimated 400 feet in the air.

Fear Little Girl Abducted

VANCOUVER (CP) — The fears of a father that his crippled 11-year-old daughter has been abducted were being investigated today by police.

"I hate to think what might have happened to her," said Terence Richards, father of Donna, the missing blonde, blue-eyed girl.

"She would have phoned if she was all right." The child has worn an artificial limb since her right leg was amputated below the knee six years ago.

Donna's brother Larry, 16, said a 30-year-old man, known to his parents as "George," took Donna away in a car a few minutes before Mr. and Mrs. Richards returned home Friday.

He said "George" offered to drive Donna to the nearby home of a classmate, Shirley Ford, 11, where Donna was going to pick up an overcoat and some school books.

Syria, Soviet Move Warily To Prevent Mid-East War

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press Foreign Observer DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — State Secretary Dulles' speech in the United Nations has aroused angry official reaction in Syria. But indications today were that Syria and the Soviet Union are proceeding with extreme caution to prevent the situation from growing to a dangerous crisis.

Premier Sabri Assali and Foreign Minister Salah Bitar denounced Dulles' statement as a new indication of hostile U.S. intentions toward Arab countries. In a speech to the UN General Assembly Dulles called on the UN to intervene in the Middle East, saying Soviet arms in Syria raised military dangers.

Bitar, before taking off for New York to head the Syrian UN delegation, demanded to know where was the great Syrian arms buildup of which Dulles spoke.

The Syrian arms buildup appears to be a long way from big enough to permit this country to launch any offensive action in any direction. Though soldiers are much in evidence here, much of their equipment still is of pre-war vintage, and Syria seems to have a long way to go before replacement is complete.

In addition, there is the question of whether the Soviet Union intends to permit offensive action to take place at this time, and threaten a world war.

Bitar claimed Dulles bases U.S. military and political strategy on a policy of ignoring the existence of small nations and their problems, and views all questions only in the light of Soviet intentions.

The real aim of the United States, Bitar charged, is to keep the Arab world divided.

Norwegian King, Haakon VIII Passes; Reigned Half-Century

OSLO, Norway (AP) — King Haakon VIII of Norway, an old sailor who rode out the storms of invasion to reign for more than 50 years, died early today in the royal palace. He was 85 and the world's oldest reigning monarch. The king had been growing weaker in his fight against a circulatory ailment. Death came shortly after heart trouble developed at 4:30 a.m., 9:30 p.m. MDT Friday.

Crown Prince Olav, regent of the realm since his father broke a thigh bone in a fall in 1955, became the new king—Olav V. There will be no coronation. Norway's constitution provided that Haakon was to be the last king formally crowned in coronation ceremonies in Norway.

SUBMITS OATH Olav submitted a written statement to a special cabinet meeting saying he had succeeded his father.

"I promise and swear I will rule the monarchy of Norway in agreement with its constitution," the statement said.

Olav's son, Prince Harald, received the title of crown prince upon his father's automatic ascension to the throne.

Faubus Prepares Injunction Appeal

By RELMAN MORIN

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The tree-lined street in front of all-white Central High School is quiet today, cleared of state troops.

Governor Orval Faubus, set back by a federal court, is preparing to appeal the injunction that broke the armed blockade that threw around the school, Sept. 2, when he declared it "off limits" to Negro children.

"As long as this order is in effect and until its certain reversal on appeal, I will comply," Faubus said.

But he added he will appeal it. Faubus made the statement in television appearances on Friday night while the troops were pulling out.

The Little Rock school board said a few extra night watchmen were hired, but no policemen.

Meanwhile, people in Little Rock are anxiously awaiting Faubus' next move, and looking to Monday morning when classes resume at Central High School and the question of whether the Negroes will try to enter.

A great legal tangle appeared in the making.

In his televised address, Faubus said, "I have instructed my attorneys to exhaust every legal remedy to appeal this order."

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Press Secretary James Hagerly said Friday night President Eisenhower has no immediate comment on the issuing in Little Rock, Ark., of an injunction ordering Governor Orval Faubus to stop preventing integration at Little Rock Central High School.

B.C. PREMIER WOULD WELCOME EDITOR IN POLITICAL ARENA

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier Bennett, with tongue very much in cheek, said he was all in favor of Victoria Times publisher Stuart Keate taking over as leader of the B.C. Liberal party.

"I'd love to have him in the political arena," said Mr. Bennett. "It's very difficult to deal with editors when they are in different arenas."

Mr. Bennett said that Mr. Keate had "some things to say and I would like to have him in the House where we could battle back and forth."

"I wish there was some way I could cast a proxy vote in favor of Mr. Keate as Liberal leader," Mr. Bennett told a press conference.

Mr. Keate has been mentioned as one of three men likely to take over as leader of the Liberal party in B.C. when Arthur Laing, defeated in the last provincial by-election, steps down. Mr. Keate's editorials in the Times have often struck at Mr. Bennett's sore spots.

"Outside of Mr. Keate the only person I think who would be as good as Don Cromie," the premier said. Mr. Cromie is publisher of the Vancouver Sun.

Canadian's Child First Christening

LONDON (CP)—Michael Michmore Ross, five-month-old son of Canadian writer and broadcaster Robert Ross, is believed to be the first Canadian child to be baptized in London's restored St. Bride's Church.

The christening, which took place in the crypt Sept. 1, was attended by about a dozen persons including John McRae of Montreal, a member of the CBC staff in London and one of the child's godparents.

Ross, 27, who comes from Ottawa and Courtenay, B.C., has been living in Britain with his Danish wife Birgit Schreiner-Jensen for the last six months. The couple met when both were reporters at the wedding of Grace Kelly and Prince Ranier of Monaco in the south of France early in 1956.

Bishop Critical Of Films

VANCOUVER (CP) — A newspaperman who became a Roman Catholic bishop says American film and record industries are rackets.

"The kids of the U.S. and Canada are the victims," Bishop T. K. Gorman said in an interview.

Bishop Gorman, of Dallas-Fort Worth diocese, Texas, is here to attend a regional meeting of the Catholic Press Association.

"The avid interest of our youth in record fads isn't spontaneous. It is artificially stimulated by the industry for huge financial gains. Movie stars are similarly raised to significance artificially," he added.

The entertainment industry creates an atmosphere which justifies immorality.

"In songs, pictures and literature the formula is always the same," he said. "A shot of sex is the basic requirement."

SUNDAY LESSON

Scripture—Daniel 1-6.
By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The story of Daniel, a captive of Nebuchadnezzar in Babylon, is one of the most dramatic in the Old Testament. It contains so much material that it may be difficult to mention all the episodes in the lesson time.

Daniel lived in Babylon during the reigns of four kings: Nebuchadnezzar, Belshazzar, Darius and Cyrus. When Nebuchadnezzar conquered Jerusalem, he told Ashpenaz, chief of his eunuchs, to bring certain of the princely young people from Israel who were healthy, well favored, skillful in wisdom and knowledge and who understood science, to his palace to learn the language of the Chaldeans and to live at the court, eating meat from the king's table.

Daniel and his brothers were given the names of Belteshazzar for Daniel, Shadrach for Hananiah, Mishaal for Meshach, and Azaria for Abednego. Now Daniel decided that he could not eat the king's meat or drink his wine because it was against Jewish custom. He persuaded Ashpenaz to let the four of them live on pulse (a porridge made of meal) and water for 10 days, and then compare their appearance with that of those who were eating the king's food. At the end of the 10 days, the Jewish youths were in better condition than the others.

Nebuchadnezzar had a dream which he could not remember in his waking hours, but which bothered him a great deal. He asked his magicians to tell him its meaning, but they were unable to because they didn't know what the dream was, which angered the king, who threatened them with death. They went to Daniel and he feared he and his brothers would perish with the rest if the dream were not revealed. That night Daniel had a vision from God in which the secret was given him, so he interpreted the dream for the king, telling him God had revealed it to him. The king made Daniel a great man.

Belshazzar was king of Babylon and gave a great feast to a thousand lords, with their wives and women friends. It must have been quite a revel, with the king and his guests drinking toasts until they were drunk. The king gave orders to bring the gold and silver vessels which Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the temple in Jerusalem, in this profane feast, and all drank from them. Then there appeared "the fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaster of the wall." The king was so frightened that "his knees smote one against another." The words were Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin.

The queen told Belshazzar to get up and go to the banquet hall. Daniel interpreted the word Mene, "God hath numbered thy kingdom and brought it to an end." Tekel, "Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting." Peres, "Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians."

Daniel was clothed with scarlet, a gold chain was put about his neck, and he was appointed the third ruler in the kingdom. But that night Belshazzar was slain "and Darius, the Median, took the kingdom."

The familiar story of Daniel's brothers being cast into a fiery furnace, but emerging unharmed, is also included in the lesson in Nebuchadnezzar's reign, and may be told if the teacher has the time. Their "fault" was that they would not bow down and worship a golden image which the king had made.

Also, in the reign of Darius, occurs the equally familiar tale of Daniel's being thrown into the den of lions because the princes were jealous of his favor with the king. Darius gave the order reluctantly, and the next morning, after a sleepless night, he went to the den and called to Daniel, who answered that "God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths that they have not hurt me."

"So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God."

"So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus, the Persian," because he was a true, capable strong character who did the will of God.

Nanaimo Pastor Raps TV

HALIFAX (CP) — Rev. William T. Cantelon of Nanaimo, B.C., says churches are empty Sunday night while Canadians watch television—comedians, apparently unaware the world hovers "on the brink of destruction."

Mr. Cantelon, addressing the Atlantic regional convention here of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada, says "the softness of our over-gadged, push-button living is undermining religion."

"It is inconceivable that Christians should fritter away their time on Sunday nights watching some comedian on television," Mr. Cantelon said.

Parish Selects Negro Pastor
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The all-white congregation of the rural Champlin Methodist Church has invited a Negro minister to become their permanent pastor.

James Cook, chairman of the Champlin church board, said the vote of the 160 members was unanimous for the call to Rev. Charles M. Sexton, Champlin is a Hennepin county (Minneapolis) community of about 900, located 20 miles north of here.

Sexton, a native of Kingston, Jamaica, is a naturalized American.

AT KITIMAT

Early Pastor Edited Paper

KITIMAT (CP) — A veteran Methodist minister who first came to Kitimat as a missionary 64 years ago, recalls vividly his arrival here in 1893.

Rev. G. H. Raley, now 95, came north again at the invitation of residents of the district to attend ceremonies celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Methodist church in Kitimat.

It was a 10-day voyage when Mr. Raley sailed here from Victoria aboard the steamer Glad Tidings in 1893. The Indian community was one of the most modern on the B.C. coast, he recalled.

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE
"It was a Christian village largely because of the teaching of a Miss Lawrence, the first white woman to set foot in Kitimat," he said. "That would be in the 'eighties."

"Charles Amos was the first lay missionary. He and George Anderson, who came here in 1892, did splendid work among the Kwakwaka'wakw. Before they arrived the Indians believed in witchcraft."

In addition to his missionary duties, Mr. Raley was the village doctor during his stay here, from 1893 to 1904.

"I wouldn't like to tell you about some of the things I had to do—they included amputating fingers and toes."

FIRST PUBLISHER
In 1898 Mr. Raley published the first magazine in Kitimat, to distribute missionary news to the Indians.

He also published a 2,000-word Indian-English dictionary and established the first meteorological station, recording temperature and rainfall for the provincial weather office in Victoria.

He remembers the arrival of Teale and Cunn, the first prospectors, who found gold in the mountains behind the village in 1897.

In 1906 Mr. Raley was transferred to Port Simpson, where he spent eight years before going to Sardinia as principal of Coqualeetza Indian school.

When he leaves Kitimat, he will take with him a slip off the black curtain bush which he brought here 64 years ago.

Anglican Official Had The Means

BRANDON (CP) — The secretary-treasurer of the Anglican diocese of Toronto made off with a Brandon contractor's payroll when he grabbed the wrong suitcase in a hurry to catch a train home.

D. C. Mackintosh, attending an executive council meeting of the Anglican church, slept in and had to hurry to the train. He got a Brandon contractor, staying at the same motel, to give him a ride to the station, where he inadvertently took a suitcase containing the payroll for the contractor's 200 employees. He left his own in the car.

The contractor phoned the CPR and the train was stopped at Portage la Prairie, Man. The payroll went back to Brandon under police guard. Mr. Mackintosh's suitcase is being forwarded to Toronto.

Pope Extols Widowhood
VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Pope has reiterated the view of the Roman Catholic church that it is preferable for widows not to remarry.

The Pope spoke about widowhood in a speech at his summer residence, of Castel Gandolfo to delegates attending a congress sponsored by the World Union of Family Organizations. The text of the speech was released today.

"The church does not condemn second marriages for widows," the Pope said. "It shows a preference for the souls who wish to remain faithful to their mates and to the perfect symbolism of the marriage sacrament."

FIRST OFFICIAL VISIT
PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—Fisheries Minister J. Angus MacLean will make his first official visit to Prince Rupert Sept. 26 and 27. It was announced in a telegram received by K. F. Harding, general manager and secretary of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-op Association, from deputy minister George Clark.

When George VI unveiled the cenotaph in Ottawa's Confederation Square in 1939, Mr. Rickwood led a special choir of 200.

"That was a memorable occasion," said the choirmaster, although he didn't meet the king. For many years he conducted the special choir for Armistice Day ceremonies on Parliament Hill, a difficult task in November when cold, snowy weather often discouraged his singers.

Church Organist Ends 50 Years

OTTAWA (CP)—After 50 years as a church organist and choir master, Cyril Rickwood says he's going to take life easy.

Mr. Rickwood, 75, has ended his career at St. Alban the Martyr Church, the oldest Anglican church here.

He has lived in Ottawa more than 45 years since he came to Canada from England. And he has been organist in at least seven Protestant churches here.

He served as an army bandmaster overseas during the First World War, and over his long career has conducted some notable choirs.

Daniel, Steadfast in Crises

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, ordered that young men in good health and with the ability to stand in his palace be brought before him. Among those chosen were Daniel and his three brothers.

Daniel refused to eat meat from the king's table for fear of defilement. He begged the eunuchs that he and his brothers be given only pulse (a meal of peas) and water. The eunuchs agreed.

Nebuchadnezzar asked his magicians to interpret a dream although he could not remember it. They could not, but Daniel received a vision from God and told the king what his dream meant.

To Belshazzar Daniel interpreted the writing on the wall—Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin—to mean "Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians."

How Christian Science Heals "GO ABOVE THE MIST"
CKOV, 630 kc, Sunday, 9:15 p.m.

ST. BRIDE'S RESTORED
The christening, which took place in the crypt Sept. 1, was attended by about a dozen persons including John McRae of Montreal, a member of the CBC staff in London and one of the child's godparents.

Ross, 27, who comes from Ottawa and Courtenay, B.C., has been living in Britain with his Danish wife Birgit Schreiner-Jensen for the last six months. The couple met when both were reporters at the wedding of Grace Kelly and Prince Ranier of Monaco in the south of France early in 1956.

GOOD BOY
Michael, chubby with blue eyes, lost one white shoe before the ceremony but behaved well throughout the proceedings. He art work worth at least $22,000.

GETS REAL BARGAIN
DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A jeweled bracelet which she bought in India for "somewhat less than $500" has turned out to be the best bargain Mrs. Mildred Burlington ever picked up. She said the bracelet as an "irreplaceable" throughout the proceedings. He art work worth at least $22,000.

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE
"It was a Christian village largely because of the teaching of a Miss Lawrence, the first white woman to set foot in Kitimat," he said. "That would be in the 'eighties."

FIRST PUBLISHER
In 1898 Mr. Raley published the first magazine in Kitimat, to distribute missionary news to the Indians.

He also published a 2,000-word Indian-English dictionary and established the first meteorological station, recording temperature and rainfall for the provincial weather office in Victoria.

He remembers the arrival of Teale and Cunn, the first prospectors, who found gold in the mountains behind the village in 1897.

In 1906 Mr. Raley was transferred to Port Simpson, where he spent eight years before going to Sardinia as principal of Coqualeetza Indian school.

When he leaves Kitimat, he will take with him a slip off the black curtain bush which he brought here 64 years ago.

BOUDOIR BEAUTY

By TRACY ADRIAN

This lovely boudoir ensemble consists of a gown and negligee. The gown features a long, flowing skirt of nylon tulle with an over-lay of fifteen denier. The crystal pleated bodice is outlined in a petit-point embroidery on sheer that is scalloped.

Over it is worn a negligee that has a long, majestic sweep in a double layer of sheer over-lay nylon tulle. The petit-point effect is carried out in a yoke effect. Crystal pleated bouffant sleeves heighten the ethereal loveliness of the set. The colors are white, pink and blue.

RAINING BEAUTY

By ALICE ALDEN

Smiling, beguiling raincoats that do the work for which they were intended, come in elegant, come in sunny skies, have become an accepted part of today's wardrobe. Peter Conte has designed one of the neatest coats of the season, using for it fine cotton in muted khaki and black stripes and trimming it with Victorian "Sunday-go-to-meeting" silk braid at collar, French cuffs and slash pockets. The coat is lined for weightless warmth. There is a matching beret.

Farmer's Wife Is "Grass Roots" Of Canadian Life, Survey Shows

OTTAWA (CP) — The farmer's wife is in a partnership that is literally the "grass roots" of Canadian life, says sociologist Helen Abell.

She may weed a garden, look after milking equipment, hens and eggs and still contend that she doesn't do much "farm work." But the farm wife is, and always has been, more than a housewife, Dr. Abell said in an interview.

A rural sociologist with the agriculture department's economics division, Dr. Abell says there are indications that more farm wives also are doing a major share of farm accounting and bookkeeping.

Dr. Abell, with an eye to defining the "woman's touch" in Canadian farm work and showing her effect on farm business, analyzed data from two intensive farming areas in central Alberta.

BOOST FARM OUTPUT

These women all lived on the type of mixed farms which could be found anywhere in Canada.

Dr. Abell found the volume of farm production was greater on farms operated by married men than on other farms. Production was lowest where there were no adult women living on the farm.

In effect, more farm work was done and handled by a larger working force on farms where there were women—particularly when the women were the wives of farm operators—than on farms operated by men alone.

The information compiled from the central Alberta farms merely hinted at the woman's share of farm work, Dr. Abell said.

Much more important was the growing realization of the part Canadian farm women played as partners with their husbands in the total agriculture picture, in planning and working for satisfying and successful farm and family units.

Army Cadets Will Hold Own Show

(Special to The Courier)

VERNON—The Vernon Military Camp cadet army display, which was being planned in conjunction with this city's centennial celebrations, will not be held during the local week of celebrations.

Area Commander Brig. J. W. Bishop has advised Mayor Frank Becker that the cadets will hold their show on August 11 next year.

The centennial committee has decided that this year's show will not interfere with the plans to go ahead with the celebrations scheduled the week of August 17.

Vernon's celebrations will follow up the Kelowna Regatta which will be held next year from August 13 to 16.

Women Of 36 Countries Attend International Council, Montreal

Mrs. T. F. McWilliams reported on the International Council of Women held at Montreal this summer, at the annual fall tea of the Local Council of Women held at her home recently. Local president Mrs. Bruce Deans received the guests, who included representatives from affiliated organizations, and others to the number of 55. Honorary vice-president Mrs. J. J. Ladd, and Mrs. J. B. Knowles poured tea.

MANY RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions forwarded the conference by local, provincial and national councils were dealt with, and included the need from Canada for increased donations to the plan of UN High Commissioner of Refugees, whereby it is planned that all European refugees will be released from camps and rehabilitated, either in their own country or in the new world within four years. Canada also will be asked to accept some of the aged, infirm and ill among these, in order that their last days may be made more comfortable.

ATOMIC WEAPONS

Paramount was concern over manufacture of atomic weapons and tests, dangers of nuclear fallout and the uses of nuclear power for peaceful development. Council plans to follow the program of the International Atomic Energy Agency, which will hold a plenary session in Vienna this year.

There was discussion on good housing and design, as well as on the findings of countries on education, law, economics and so on, which have become matters of concern during the three years between international conferences. Similarity of the needs of women everywhere was evidenced in their resolutions; better care for children of working mothers; rights of women to work; disposal, at death of a husband, of property acquired by both; dissolution of marriage, and equal rights of men and women at time of marriage.

Among those attending were Dr. Jeanne Eder, Swiss scientist, and president of International; Mrs. Rex Eaton, Pres. Can. Council; women in positions of trust—magistrates, aldermen, judges, doctors of education, philosophy, law and medicine; heads of Gov't Depts. and wives of government officials. From Nigeria there was a queen and two chiefs who were working to improve the lot of women in that country.

There were women from South Africa bearing the burden of racial discrimination; women from Pakistan, Argentina, West Germany, the Dominican Republic, Great Britain, the U.S., Australia, Viet Nam and many others, all working for equal rights for men and women.

ENTERTAINED ROYALLY

Entertained at many functions in Montreal, delegates were received in Ottawa by the Hon. Vincent Massey at Rideau Hall, and taken to the Parliament Buildings. Later, nearly all members met in New York as guests of the American Council of Women, and participated in a special seminar conducted in the UN buildings. Tours of New York included the Library, Fine Arts Museum, Home Crafts, McCall Magazine Centre; Art and Music High School and many others. The crowning event was a dinner for 700 women in the Waldorf Astoria at which Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was guest speaker, and proved herself the great lady that she is—the woman who, with humility and sincerity, has done so much for the underprivileged of the world.

STARTED IN 1888

The International organization started in 1888, its first meeting being in the U.S.A. Later, Lady Aberdeen started a similar group in Canada, after which local councils were instituted, to be followed by provincial councils. This "far-flung empire" of women of 37 countries work for the development of their kind without distinction of race, creed, color or religion, and the meeting in Montreal was the chance of a lifetime for Canadian women.

Delegates toured Quebec, with its walled city and the historic Plains of Abraham; they had tea at the Hotel Frontenac where musicians are dressed in the powdered wigs and ancient garb of the days of Louis XIV. They saw that great engineering feat—the St. Lawrence Seaway—and what happened to the town of Iroquois. But more important than any of these things was the fact that women from 37 countries have glimpsed a vision of human rights and responsibilities—not only for themselves, but for all people, and are working for a new world.

KHS NEWS

Golden Owl Calling

By BRIAN MILLER

"Open for Business" is the sign being put out by Kelowna High School's clubs and organizations ready to begin another successful year. Now that school has definitely started, that all new students have been welcomed in and all new teachers made at home, nearly thirty groups this year are starting membership drives, cookie sales, executive meetings, and all that go with active participation in extra-curricular affairs.

The Radio-Drama Club, which has been functioning continuously at the school since 1939, had its first meeting of the year on Monday, Sept. 16. Nearly fifty students were at this meeting, the first thing they did was elect executives. Sharon Bunce, grade 11, installed as president; Eric Lipka, grade 11, became vice-president; Barbara Goodman, grade 11, became secretary; and David Sticks, grade 13, became treasurer. The Radio Technical Committee, which is partly separate from the club; unanimously elected Clinton Youngstrom, grade 11, the chairman of that committee. The three sections of the club include the above-mentioned technical committee, sponsored by Mr. D. C. Wood, social studies teacher; the radio production section, headed by English and social studies teacher Mr. A. I. Jones, which will be presenting radio shows on CKOV later in the term; and the Dramatic section, headed by Mr. F. Bishop, commercial and law teacher, which will produce the annual school play which will be a light-hearted farce called "Strange Boarders."

This week, Kelowna High School inter-mural sports began another year in the history of high school athletics. The student body has been divided, for this year, into six houses, each one of which has a captain for the year, who acts as manager, and teams: boy and girl, or two for each sport. Houses, which are groups of home room divisions, are sporting organizations within the school only. They are simply called A, B, C, D, E and F. Each has a color which is either red, blue, green, yellow, black, or white. House games are played in the school gym on Monday through Thursday. The season starts off with soccer, and will continue through the year with basketball and baseball.

Here is a postscript from the Junior Band's trip to Calgary, last Wednesday. Tuesday, Rose, the director, read the band class a telegram from the Quatback Club of Calgary, stating that they were highly pleased with the Band's performance on Saturday, Sept. 14, and hoped that the Kelowna Junior Band would come back to Calgary next year.

On Wednesday, Sept. 18, the KHS Junior Red Cross had its first meeting of the new school year. The members, who were representative from the school's 19 home rooms, elected Cathy every, grade 12, as president. Others elected into the executive were Sharon Bunce as vice-president, Richard Halliday, grade 12, as secretary, and Helga Rees as treasurer. Sharon and Helga were put in charge of all Red Cross displays. The group is hoping to embark on another bottle drive this year, in order to raise money for the Red Cross organization.

HAMMOND, B.C. (CP) — This Sunday churches in the Maple Ridge district will pray for miracle—the complete recovery of Bernard Hansen. Exactly one year ago the Hammond youth, now 23, lapsed into a coma after the car he was driving rolled into a ditch near Haney, the brief period of more liberal government—he had been released from a sentence of life imprisonment.

Women

THE DAILY COURIER, Sat., Sept. 21, 1967 3

Woman As Future Premier Foreseen By Only Woman Cabinet Minister

VICTORIA (CP) — Mrs. Ellen Fairclough, secretary of state in the new Conservative government and the first woman to hold a cabinet post in Ottawa, predicted today that Canada some day may have a woman prime minister.

"I see no reason why a woman of exceptional gifts should not be prime minister," said Mrs. Fairclough in an interview during a visit to Victoria.

"Of course," she said, "it is not likely to happen for a long time to come. But I can foresee a time when a woman parliamentarian of outstanding ability and character may qualify for government leadership."

In support of her argument, Mrs. Fairclough said public prejudice against women in high office has diminished considerably in recent years, and women are becoming increasingly interested in public affairs.

"There is, however, the drawback that most women like to live close to home. For that reason most of them are attracted to public work at the municipal level."

In spite of her work for equal pay for women, Mrs. Fairclough stated emphatically that she is not a feminist.

"I do not think women should be in parliament just because they are women. They must have a special interest in public affairs and the ability to express themselves clearly and forcefully."

"For that reason I do not advocate any special training for women parliamentarians. They should graduate naturally into public life through their interest in public affairs."

In her new office as secretary of state, Mrs. Fairclough administers the Queen's printer and in that capacity she visited the Queen's printing establishment at HMCC Dockyard, Esquimalt, this morning.

Later she was to meet Premier Bennett, at the legislative building, and tonight she will be honored at a dinner arranged by A. E. DeB. McPhillips, Conservative member for Victoria.

The wife of a Hamilton printer, Mrs. Fairclough came here from Vancouver where she has been attending the Canadian Graphic Arts convention.

She will return to Vancouver Friday to address the convention.

KEEP IN TRIM

Conditioners For Heavyweights

By IDA JEAN KAIN

If your weight is far above normal, strenuous exercise is not recommended until you have lost part of the excess. When the system is already burdened with fat, vigorous exercise imposes further strain on the body. However, this does not mean that all exercise is out of the question. Lighter exercises are recommended to tone and strengthen the muscles of the abdominal wall are essential, particularly as fat is being removed.

Reason this way: As the fat which infiltrated between the muscle strands is absorbed and utilized for energy, the abdominal muscles must be strengthened. Otherwise the vital organs that have been partly bolstered by fat tend to sag and crowd each other, impairing health generally.

For heavyweights, corrective exercises must be simple and taken from a position which prevents strain. Almost anyone can take these tone-ups, but if there is any doubt as to whether or not you should exercise, ask your doctor about them.

Position: Lying flat on back, knees bent, soles of feet flat on floor.

Movement: The exercise is simply to pull up-and-in, starting with the lower abdominal muscles, and continuing the upward pull until the small of the back is pressed flat against the floor. Hold, slowly release. Repeat slowly six times.

Position: Same as in first exercise, lying on back, knees bent, feet apart, soles on floor.

Movement: By muscular effort, fully expand the abdominal wall as high as comfortable, without strain, and then vigorously contract those muscles, by pulling firmly up-and-in. Do not hold your breath, just breathe naturally. Repeat exercise ten times, twice daily.

Finish with an anti-gravity exercise . . . it's easier than it sounds. The equipment needed is a straight dining chair without arms.

Position: Lying on back on floor with hips close to side of chair, legs resting across seat of chair, arms down at sides.

Movement: Lift hips up to straight line (do not arch back) and stretch arms back on floor overhead. Hold . . . lower. Repeat three to six times. Rest in this position, feet on chair.

Each piece of clothing is given a code number and letter which is listed on a label stuck on the top of the case.

Youngsters Need "Quiet Periods"

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

In homes where there are several children there is obviously a need for periods of quiet for the welfare of all concerned, parents must require such periods.

Quiet periods are also desirable at school, especially since there are so many children in the class. In the elementary schools today, the skillful teacher will allow her children a good deal of freedom to move about quietly and to work in small groups when they may talk together about the things they are doing. There may be several groups of this kind working together at the same time, while still another group may be working with the teacher.

It is possible for each group to concentrate on its particular activity so as not to be disturbed by the voices of the other groups.

Of course, this takes skillful planning on the part of the teacher. A less-experienced teacher may find it more difficult. Some of the children may become unduly noisy or, failing to cooperate with others in their group, may grow bored and make a nuisance of themselves.

Then the children who have had so much freedom under a skillful teacher for a year may have a teacher the following year who is not so skilled and who lets the children get out of hand. The result is confusing and ineffective class work.

Even the teacher who is skillful and allows her children what might seem ideal freedom, may sometimes waste enormous time and energy.

For example, when she tries to have the class do certain things together she may find that a number of the children take a long time to settle down. In such cases, the class must have practice in turning promptly from activity to being in their places and keeping themselves still and quiet for the desired short period.

SHORT RECESS

A less-experienced teacher will have to be more strict in these directions, especially if her class is a large and overworked one. However, she will find it easier to enforce her strict rules if she will frequently declare a brief period of a few moments when there is almost a complete recess.

The film hope the Chicago White Sox had of capturing the American League pennant withered in half Friday night in the face of a two-run ninth-inning rally by Cleveland Indians.
The Tribe put together three singles, a sacrifice and a sacrifice fly to score twice and edge White Sox into near oblivion by a 3-2 count.
New York defeated Boston 7-4 despite a Red Sox comeback in the ninth that netted all their runs.
The champs now are all but in with a magic number of two.
Two New York wins over a New York victory and a Chicago loss and White Sox can start planning next season's campaign.
In the only other game Baltimore blanked Washington 1-0. Rain postponed Detroit at Kansas City.

This is the way Orioles coach Hank Tostenzon sizes up the OMBL semi-final series which winds up in Pentiction tomorrow afternoon, between the Red Sox and the Okonoks.
The winner of the game tomorrow will tangle with Kelowna Orioles next Sunday in Kelowna's Elks Stadium in the first game of the OMBL final series.
"I'd like the Sox to win because I think we play a better game against them," was coach Tostenzon's feelings on the game. "They're up against a bunch of heavy hitters in the Okies, however, and that's why my money's on them."
Pentiction Red Sox have already notched a better drawing club than Kelowna, the Orioles will be

Pontiacs Extend Shamrocks, Drop Match In Overtime Play

VICTORIA (CP)—Victoria Shamrocks were forced into a ten minute overtime period here Friday night before they could beat Long Branch, Pontiacs 12-9 and take a two-game lead in the best-of-seven Mann Cup lacrosse championship series.
Victoria's winning goal was fired by forward Bert Bortio from about 40 feet out, the end result of a carefully set up pattern play and a sharp pass from defenseman Bill Bamford.
The turning point of the game however, was in the third quarter when Long Branch was dealt two penalties within seconds of each other and had two men off the floor after building up an 8-3 lead on the Rocks. The home team pressed their advantage to the limit and scored a trio of goals before the Pontiacs could get back to strength.
Victoria scoring was handled by Peewee Bradshaw, Skip McKay, Don Sherry and Jack Northrup with two goals each. Alan Gill, Bill Bamford, Bert Bortio and Ed Kowalyk each contributed one.
Long Branch shotsmiths were Bert Russell and Tony D'Amico with pairs and Stan Kapsky, Paul Henderson, Ron Roy, John Coleman and Larry Ruse, each with one.
Pontiacs, until their fateful twin penalties, were never behind the Rocks and looked ready to live up to Coach Elmer Lee's promise that "we'll win this one."
The visitors ended the first quarter 2-2 with the Shamrocks, led 4-3 coming out of the second and added a quartet without retaliation to lead 8-3 when Victoria gained the two-man advantage.
D'Amico started the ball rolling at 4:32 of the opening quarter when Pontiacs were a man strong after a boarding penalty had been handed to McKay.
Bradshaw counted for Victoria at 5:03 and Gill followed three

Basilio's Heavy Drills Over For Monday's Fight

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Three rounds of boxing ended heavy drills Thursday for Carmen Basilio and his sparring total to 102 rounds.
Basilio, who will meet Ray Robinson Monday in Yankee Stadium for the world's middleweight title, employed a circling maneuver in exchanging blows with Leo Owens, his sparmate.
The style, which sent Basilio whirling to his opponent's right, apparently has been adopted to keep the welterweight champion out of range of Robinson's left hook.
Light drills were scheduled for today and Saturday. He will leave here Saturday for New York.

Hotspurs Seek First Win Sun.

The Hotspurs travel to Kamloops this Sunday with the intention of winning their first league game this semester.
Tired of being in the losing end of the score, the 'Spurs will have to roll this Sunday to overcome the record which now reads one loss and one tie, for one point placing them in the unenviable position of being one away from the basement.
In the spring season, they rolled over everything, losing only one game in regular play, the last league game they played against Vernon Rangers.
NOT JELLING
This year, however, they have had some roller shake-ups, and haven't seemed to be able to start jelling yet.
A bit of bad news for coach Jack Loman was the transfer of Herman Quint to the Vernon Rangers. A goalie by trade, Quint has turned in some very fine work on the forward line, also.

Living In Vernon, he travelled to and fro with the 'Spurs, but the Vernon club seem to have been successful in wooing him into their strip.

Chalie Bazzana and Lomax, the regular fullbacks throughout last year's victories, will be in the line-up Sunday.
MORE EFFECTIVE
Newcomer Peter Bulatovich will be working at left half, with Peter Pohlman at center half, and John Wiebe on the right side. Wiebe has proven to be more effective on the half line than at forward.
Derek Beardsell and Barney Wood will play the wings, with Jack Thomson and Derek Crowther playing the inside spots.
Irwin Mueller will carry the center forward chores.
The club had a stiff workout on Thursday, and will try to get two practices in each week from now on, if the park is available.

Drivers Set For US Type Grand Prix

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP)—Sports car drivers and sports car fans were set today for the 10th annual grand prix road race. Thousands of spectators who jammed the streets Friday night for the Concours d'Elegance, the fashion show of automobiles, swarmed out to the 2.3-mile closed course to watch 200 drivers in seven races.
The climax is the 101.2-mile Grand Prix feature. George Constantine of Southbridge, Mass., is back to defend the title he won last year in his Jaguar.
George Latscha of Harrisburg, Pa. won the Concourse d'Elegance Friday night with his 1956 Bentley.
In the only race Friday a New York City newspaper woman, Denise McCluggage, piloted her Porsche to first place in the ladies race, a 25.3-mile event. Her average speed was 76.4 mph.

Richard Defers Retirement Plans

MONTREAL (CP)—What does one of the National Hockey League's greatest stars of all time think about starting his 16th season at the age of 30?
"I don't want to think about it," laughed Maurice Rockett Richard, the brilliant, explosive right-winger of Montreal Canadiens.
"But if you mean physically, and not my age, I really don't feel any different than I did five, 10 or even 15 years ago in starting a new training season."
The Rocks' appearance didn't belie his statement in the least. He had just come off the ice at the training camp after a tough one-hour practice game, fresh and dapper.

Teresa Cut From Lion's Line-Up

VANCOUVER (CP)—Halfback Tony Teresa, a second-year man with the B.C. Lions, has been cut by the Western Interprovincial Football Union club.
Teresa, a stocky little man brought from San Jose State College last year as a quarterback and then switched to halfback, was cut because Lions have no spot for him.
"It's a shame," said coach Clem Crowe. "Tony's a tough, game guy but there's just no place we can use him."

Aly Khan's Horse Wins Irish Meet

CURRAGH, Ireland (AP)—Omeved won the one-mile, six-furlong Irish St. Leger on Wednesday for Aly Khan Wednesday.
The three-year-old colt landed the first prize of $2,321 at betting odds of 5.4. He won by a length from second-placed Primavera with Solartickle third. Running time was not given.

Little Bay Nag Wins Brown Jug

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Trepid Thursday won the 12th annual $73,528 Little Brown Jug for three-year-old pacers by taking the rain-delayed third heat at the Delaware County fairgrounds.
The bay son of Knight Dream took the two-disk classic in straight heats, winning the first in 2:04 and the third in 2:03.2.
Meadow Lands, driven by Del Miller, won the second division heat in 2:01 with the five leaders in each division coming back for the payoff jaunt.
Adios Express, driven by Joe O'Brien, of Albion, P.E.I., finished fifth in the first heat and second in the second heat to grab fourth place in the overall picture.

Pike Signed To Third Year At Warriors Helm

WINNIPEG (CP)—General manager Jack Perrin today announced that he has re-signed Alf Pike to coach Winnipeg Warriors of the Western Hockey League for the 1967-68 season.
It was a one-year contract with salary terms not disclosed. It will be Pike's third year at the helm of the Warriors. In his first season he led the team to the WHL championship and the Edgington Cup.

Manchester Seeks Third Straight Soccer Crown

By ROGER STONEBANKS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Arsenal's proud possession of the Football League in 1953 for winning the league championship three times in a row.
The hat-trick, previously accomplished only by Arsenal and Huddersfield Town in the 1920s, is sought this season by Manchester United, first division winners in the last two seasons.
Arsenal, the glamor club of the 1930s when it won the cup twice and the league title five times, is touted as the contender with the best chance of thwarting the Manchester United bid.
Daily Sketch describes Arsenal's style as simple and quick. "No one holds the ball for long, and everyone keeps running. It's punchy, effective stuff."
One of the richest clubs in the world, Arsenal once spent its money on ready-made players, but now, like Manchester United, concentrates on getting young stars early and keeping a young team.
Vic Groves, once labelled the London club's problem boy, is typical of the team spirit. Now earmarked as "centre-forward," Groves says "play me anywhere, I don't mind where I am as long as I have a game."
Thrown together for the first time last season, Arsenal's defence of goalkeeper Spink, keeper, fullbacks Brian Charlton and Des Lacey, and centre-half Bill Wright, all products of The club's youth school, are the backbone of the team.

National Building

Code Theme Of Pentiction Meet

PENTICTON (CP) — Interpretation of the National Building Code will be the theme of a meeting of some 33 building inspectors and product technicians here this weekend.

R. S. Ferguson, secretary of the National Committee of the National Research Council, and Don Veale, western representative of the National Building Code, Vancouver, will attend.

Pentiction building Inspector George Corbin, president of the Building Inspectors Association of B.C., said the primary purpose of the meeting is to discuss with Mr. Ferguson the various portions of the National Building Code.

HIT BY POOR WESTERN CROPS

National Economy Levels

OTTAWA (CP)—The output of Canada's economy, hit by poor crops in the west, has levelled off in the second quarter of this year, the government reported today.

It was the first departure from a steady rise of national productivity which had taken place since mid-1954.

The bureau of statistics estimated Canada's gross national product during April-June was at an annual rate of $30,700,000,000—unchanged from the first three months of the year.

Last year the gross national product—total value of all goods and services—was $29,888,000,000 and 1955 it was $28,916,000,000.

The bureau said the April-June stability in national productivity was accompanied by an increase of almost one per cent in the general retail price level. Employment also rose during the three-month period.

CROP VALUE DROPS

Major factor was a "substantial drop in the value of crop production as compared with last year. The bureau said recent information suggests that grain output may decline by about $50,000,000, due mainly to Prairie drought.

At $30,700,000,000, the gross national product in the first half of the year has averaged about three per cent above the annual figure for 1954. Excluding farm products, the national product has averaged about four per cent above last year's values.

During April-June, the total value of wages and salaries continued to rise to an annual rate of $15,300,000,000, compared with $14,284,000,000 last year.

Investment income, however, declined to an annual rate of $4-$64,000,000 from $4,782,000,000 for 1954. The bureau said that reflected a continued downtrend in profits and a rise in dividends paid abroad.

Personal expenditures on consumer goods and services stood at an annual rate of $19,484,000,000 during the April-June period. That was a drop from the rate of $19,538,000,000 during the first quarter of the year, but was higher than the $18,556,000,000 total last year.

Government expenditures on goods and services continued to rise to a rate of $4,448,000,000 from $5,209,000,000 in 1954.

Canadian Markets Suffer One Of Worst Declines This Year

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Canadian stock markets this week suffered one of their worst declines of the year as industrial and western oils led prices downward.

Following the trend set by Wall Street, the markets gradually eased lower during the first four sessions of the week and then were belted for a severe decline Friday.

The industrial index on the Toronto Stock Exchange broke through its 1956 low and many of the 20 stocks used to compile the index closed the week near or below their lows of last year.

Observers said they expected the general picture of declining prices and slow trading to continue for most of the winter.

Some market analysts figured the reason behind Friday's slump was the bank interest rate increase announced in Britain Thursday. They said many traders were pessimistic about tight money, figuring it was more of a world problem now.

MIDDLE EAST WORRY

A feeling of discomfort about the Middle East situation also helped the slide. Another factor was the smaller profits being reported by companies and the over-supply of many products.

Ford was one of the heaviest losers, dropping $8.50 to $76. Its lowest level in more than two years. This stock has gradually declined from its 1957 high of $114 in May.

Steel Company of Canada was another heavy loser, declining $4.75 to a 1957 low of $54 before settling at $54.36 1/2. There were several other losses of between $2 and $5.

The industrial index lost more than 13 points on the week, including a 7 1/2-point decline Friday.

Western oils were heavy losers and their index dropped more than 11 points.

A feature was the $1.55-loss by Central Del Rio to $8.70. Other losses ranged to $1 among lower-priced stocks and to nearly $3 in the higher-priced list.

BASE METALS DOWN

Base metals were down in a solid line but losses in the mining list were not as far-ranged as those in the other sections. The base metal index on the Toronto exchange lost six points.

Trading fell below the previous week's volume of 11,380,000 shares compared with 12,443,000.

Index changes at Toronto: Industrials off 13.33 to 428.44; golds unchanged at 78.33; base metals off 5.94 to 168.07; western oils off 11.12 to 158.22.

Index changes at Montreal: Banks off 0.47 to 48.55; utilities off 3.5 to 135.3; industrials off 8.3 to 251.8; combined off 6.7 to 213.0; papers off 36.38 to 1081.70; golds off 1.50 to 73.98.

Week's volumes: 279,815 industrials and 1,510,387 mines compared with 381,672 industrials and 1,830,368 mines the previous week. Of 351 issues traded, 81 advanced, 154 declined and 116 were unchanged.

WALL STREET REPORT

New Uncertainties Emerge On United States Business Scene

By WALTER BREDE JR.

NEW YORK (AP) — New uncertainties popped up on the business scene in the United States this week as many indicators pointed lower.

Long-range forecasts were still on the sunny side. But the immediate picture was one of slowdown.

Stock prices sagged on a broad front.

Producers and refiners of crude oil scheduled new cutbacks. Allowable oil production in Texas next month will be at the lowest rate in two years.

Copper output continued in the doldrums. Prices of sulphur were cut $2.50 to $3 a ton.

LEADERS CONFIDENT

Britain's action in boosting the Bank of England's discount rate posed new problems. The new bank rate—seven per cent—is the highest since the 1920's. This is the interest charged on money borrowed from Britain's central banking system.

Even so, the nation's business leaders were confident.

Norman W. Foy, vice-president of Republic Steel Corporation, said: "The short-range view for business is good, the mid-term view is better and the long-term view is the best that any nation has ever been privileged to anticipate."

Farm equipment makers, reporting substantial sales gains this year, predicted further increases in 1958. Retail merchants were told to set their sights on a record high in Christmas sales.

Less encouraging to retailers were reports that their credit customers were not paying their bills on time. Collecting overdue accounts is shaping up as a major problem for merchants in many of the largest cities.

Retailers blame it on factory cutbacks which have resulted in some unemployment and less over-time pay.

Steel output, freight carloadings, soft coal production and retail sales dipped below year-ago levels.

Prince George Man Given Jail Sentence

(By Courier Staff Reporters)

VERNON—Jack Doran, 45, of Prince George, was sentenced by Magistrate Frank Smith to three months in jail when he pleaded guilty in city police court here Thursday to a charge of possession of stolen goods.

Doran, a transient who was released from penitentiary last March, was picked up in Vernon September 18 on a drunk charge and was later charged with having a stolen sleeping bag in his possession. He was fined $10 and costs on 14 days in jail on the charge of being intoxicated.

Pleading guilty to a charge of vagrancy, Rene Paquis of Winnipeg was fined $25 and costs or one month in jail.

John Dempsey, Robert Hunt and Norman Marshall pleaded guilty to intoxication charges. Marshall, who was convicted on a similar charge here September 3, was fined $25 and costs or one month in jail. Dempsey and Hunt each drew fines of $10 and costs or 14 days in jail.

World's Biggest Uranium Mine

ELLIOTT LAKE, Ont. (CP) — The world's biggest single uranium mine officially opened Friday.

Formal ceremonies are scheduled at Consolidated Denison, fourth uranium produced in the Blind River field since its discovery four years ago. Another seven are heading into production.

The area's mines have contracted with the crown-owned Eldorado Mining and Smelting Corporation for delivery of uranium oxide worth more than $1,000,000 in the next five years.

Canadians To Invest Billions

VICTORIA (CP)—A comprehensive two-year study on Canadian industry, which estimates $10,500,000,000 total investment by all existing Canadian secondary manufacturers over the next 10 years, was released by the provincial governments' Trade and Industrial Council meeting in Victoria.

The report was compiled through the offices of Rex K. Gross, on authorization of the council, deputy minister in the Manitoba department of industry and commerce.

His prediction is based on questionnaires sent to 1,000 senior executives in Canadian secondary manufacturing industries.

The 45 delegates here term the report second only to the recent Gordon Commission submissions on Canadian economic prospects.

Appeal Underway In B.C. Fruit Market Scheme

Appeal against a magistrate's judgment that upheld the principle of orderly fruit marketing was started this week in Cranbrook.

County Court Judge H. W. Colgan adjourned the case until Sept. 25 when he will set a definite date to hand down judgment.

Meanwhile Col. C. C. Merritt, Q.C., Vancouver, counsel for the appellant, P. J. Shereshtoboff of Cranbrook, B.C., and Crown counsel D. C. Fillmore, Q.C., Kelowna, will submit written arguments to the court.

Last August 22, the Creston fruit grower was convicted and fined $25 and $75 costs for violating the orders of the B.C. Fruit Board, by illegally transporting fruit to the prairies, contrary to the board's orders to maintain orderly marketing.

LONG TUNNEL

The Cascade tunnel in the state of Washington, dedicated in 1929, runs 7 1/2 miles through solid granite.

Job opportunities in 1956, the report suggests, would be created by industries handling iron and steel products, electrical apparatus and supplies and transportation equipment.

Mr. Gross termed his predictions "conservative."

Background of the report is traced to Toronto in 1955 when the council executive decided to organize an extensive study of attitudes governing development decisions of Canadian business executives, whose head companies produced secondary manufacturing products.

Government Defended By Highways Minister

(By Courier Staff Reporter)

VERNON—Reviewing the progress and development in B.C. in the last five years under Social Credit government, Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, minister of highways, in an address here Thursday night warned Social Credit supporters "Not to let old, disgruntled parties sell you a bill of goods that the government is not doing good."

"I would be the last person to admit we haven't made mistakes and we will make more in the future. But those who don't make mistakes haven't done anything," Mr. Gagliardi declared.

The tourist industry has great potential, he said, and added there is no reason why the province shouldn't attract $500 million. The Okanagan, he points out, had a great tourist potential. He also spoke on the oil, gas and mining potential.

Seated at the head table were chairman Guy F. Bagnall and Mrs. Bagnall; Mr. and Mrs. Gagliardi; G. W. McLeod, M.P. for North Okanagan-Revelstoke, and Mrs. McLeod; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bradford; Hugh Shantz, M.L.A., and Mrs. Shantz; James A. Reid, M.L.A. for Salmon Arm; and Mr. and Mrs. Gresty.

Mr. McLeod, Mr. Reid and Mrs. Gresty, provincial president of the Women's Auxiliaries to the Social Credit group, also spoke. Mrs. Gresty commended the Vernon ladies for becoming the 89th auxiliary and their great feat in preparing such a splendid meal for their first effort. She congratulated the Vernon president, Mrs. Leslie Bradford.

The Reimer Girls of Grindrod and Art Trapp entertained the gathering. R. Blackburn auctioned off two pastured eight pies left over from the meal.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Referring to highway construction, Mr. Gagliardi commended the government's road building program. The government will continue its hard surfacing program, as well as reconstructing and building new roads, the highways minister said.

Speaking at a dinner meeting sponsored by the Vernon Social Credit group, Mr. Gagliardi told the gathering of more than 100 the government has tried to be a strict business administration, which has accounted for the orderly progress and development in the province.

Going back to when his government took power, the minister stated at that time it was almost impossible for the people to think of the province as one segment. We had to change this attitude because of the great importance to try and get the people to think on a provincial basis, he said.

"No place in the world can compare in diversity like the province of B.C.," said the speaker. "This is the reason for the increase in population and why so many people from Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba are coming to live in the province."

BIG INCREASE

225,000 Immigrants Arrive In Canada

By JOHN E. BIRD (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

OTTAWA (CP)—More immigrants arrived in Canada in the first eight months of 1957 than in any year since 1913.

Immigration department officials estimated Thursday arrivals from Jan. 1 to Aug. 31 totalled 225,000 and the figure would hit 273,000 by the end of the year.

The Aug. 31 total was an increase of 126,220 over the 97,780 who landed in the January-August period last year. The total for all 1956 was 164,557.

Landings in 1913 totalled 400,870. Since that year, arrivals have never passed 200,000. The peak year between 1913 and 1956 was 1951 when 194,391 arrived.

Since the turn of the century there have been only three years besides 1913 in which immigration has exceeded 275,000. A total of 268,639 arrived in 1910, 331,288 in 1911 and 270,750 in 1912.

Final figures for the first six months of 1957 show immigrants for a total of 25,419 at Sept. 11, from the British Isles made up the largest group, 73,000 FROM U.K.

Arrivals from all countries totalled 182,410 compared with 69,924 in the corresponding period of 1956. Of the total 73,578 were British, up from 22,424 a year ago. British arrivals by the end of the year likely will total between 63,000 and 90,000, compared with a record 157,000 in 1913.

Arrivals of Germans rose to 10,404 from 10,141 last year while Italians increased to 10,171 from 12,457.

A substantial proportion of British arrivals were flown to Canada under the federal government's "air bridge to Canada" plan. At the end of August, when the scheme wound up, 17,565 British immigrants had come.

Figures also were boosted by Hungarian refugees, about 5,000 reached Canada last November and December and an additional 20,419 have arrived since Jan. 1, 1951, for a total of 25,419 at Sept. 11, flanked the Turks, who traditionally have emphasized a defence posture in the north more than the south.

Recently, the Soviet Union has been directing menacing words at the Turkish government. On Sept. 13, Soviet Premier Bulganin in a letter to Turkish Premier Menderes accused Turkey of concentrating troops on its border with Syria in a plot against the interests of that country.

The Turkish reply was that the only military activities in that area were normal fall manoeuvres of Turkish army units held every year and planned far in advance.

BAGHDAD PACT

Commenting on this exchange, the New York Times said the idea of a Turkish attack on Syria was nonsense, and the Russians knew it, and what Moscow was aiming at was to get in a thrust at the Baghdad Pact, of which Turkey is a key member.

The Baghdad Pact is a Middle East defence alliance including, besides Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and the United Kingdom. The United States has backed the pact but refrained from full membership. The pact is a pet hatred of the "Kremlin."

Turkey has a well-trained army approaching 400,000 men plus an efficient air force and navy. She purchased large amount of modern arms during the Second World War and since has been a major recipient of U.S. military and economic aid.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

The Stars Say

FOR TOMORROW

A perplexing situation in your personal life may present itself on Sunday, but it can be solved without too much difficulty if you don't force issues.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, the stars indicate that you are currently in a cycle where matters connected with your job should be taking a definite upward trend. Original ideas, coupled with progressive methods in carrying them out, could yield fine results. Financial matters are also under excellent aspects now and will continue to be for the next four months—provided that you do not yield to extravagant impulses late in October.

Travel and romance will be under generous influences from next May until August, and domestic relationships should be harmonious for most of the year ahead. You may have to work hard to achieve a personal objective in March, but the results will be well worth while.

A child born on this day will be self-confident and efficient.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW
 Initiative and determination can help you to win fine results on Monday. Keep alert.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
 If Monday is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that a display of initiative and enterprise between now and the end of this year could yield excellent results—especially where financial matters are concerned. In job affairs, you may be obliged to take on some new responsibilities during the next three months.

Travel and romance will be highlighted between May and August of 1958, and those in creative fields should also find this a most inspiring period. Avoid extravagance toward the latter part of next month, temper tantrums during November.

A child born on this day will be intelligent and ambitious.

MCKEESPORT, Pa. (AP) — A 16-year-old McKeesport High School football player died in hospital of a brain concussion Thursday.

He was Thomas Reynolds, a junior guard. His mother, Mrs. Catherine Reynolds, a widow, said the boy collapsed on the practice field Wednesday and never regained consciousness.

She said Tommy was injured August 23 in a scrimmage at the team's summer camp in Somerset county, but was discharged from hospital and began playing again.

His death is the third high school football fatality reported in the U.S. this year.

Blood Rejection Said "Murder" By Alderman

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Vancouver city councillor says it is "murder" if a child dies after its parents reject medical treatment on religious grounds.

Ald. Mrs. Anne Sprott asked the metropolitan health committee in Richmond this week if anything can be done to protect children when the parents refuse emergency blood transfusions and other vital treatment.

As the Jehovah's Witnesses increase, she said, more should be done to tell the people that "times have changed." She cited a child who died because the parents refused to get a doctor.

Dr. Stewart Murray, senior medical health officer, said authorities could use the child protection act to force life saving treatment when the parents rejected it. He said it has been done when children's parents refused them blood transfusions.

Dr. Murray said it is a delicate situation as it involves religious freedom, but that doctors and nurses are doing their best to convince such people that it is not a sin to apply such techniques in saving lives.

Sydney Bridge Now Traffic Bottleneck

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters) — Sydney's harbor bridge, still the engineering pride but scarcely the joy of this bustling, growing metropolis, is becoming Australia's worst traffic bottleneck.

In a city which inherited headaches from its narrow main streets, the bridge has become the greatest headache of them all.

The traffic snarl it causes sometimes last several hours and involve thousands of vehicles. Three separate accidents on the bridge at a peak hour on a wet evening caused a five-hour tangle which cluttered the bridge approaches for several miles at either end.

SIX CAR LANES

Even without accidents or breakdowns, motorists find that the six car lanes on the bridge are inadequate. The toll gates, they complain, slow traffic to such an extent that holdups are inevitable.

Spanning the harbor with the bridge, which was nearly three miles long, was to have solved the problem of transport for north shore development.

But its completion in 1932 caused such rapid growth in the suburbs across the harbor that today about a quarter of the city's 2,000,000 citizens live there. Many of them work in the city and travel over the bridge by car, bus, streetcar or train.

The spread of big office and factory buildings to the north side of the harbor, which formerly was mainly a residential area, is turning Sydney into twin cities with the harbor bridge the main traffic link.

60,000 CARS DAILY

When the suspension bridge was built, 12,000 cars a day used it. The average now is 60,000. With Sydney's population rising at the rate of 15 per cent every eight years and thousands of new cars coming onto the roads every week, the problem becomes more acute.

Various schemes for improving the traffic flow or providing alternate means of linking the northern and southern parts of Sydney have been put forward.

Opening lead—ten of spades.
 South gave a fine imitation of a man in a hurry to get where he wanted to be by going to six notrump in one bound.

West chose the ten of spades as his safest lead and declarer noted there were only eleven sure tricks in sight. The twelfth trick could come from the diamond or club suit if either one broke satisfactorily.

Rather than place all his faith immediately in a favorable break of one of the minor suits, South decided to delay testing either suit until he could gather more information about the opponents' distribution.

His first play after winning the opening lead with the jack of spades was the four of hearts. Of course, by doing so, he gave up all chance of making thirteen tricks, but he could well afford to squander 30 points, an insignificant investment, if it would lead to making the vulnerable slam.

West took the heart with the eight and returned the nine of spades. The purpose of the heart play became clear as South cashed his high cards in both spades and hearts. West didn't follow to the third round of either suit and South therefore learned West had started with a doubleton in each major.

The low heart play was made to force the defenders to reveal their distribution so that declarer would be in better position to know how to play his clubs and diamonds. There was a possible club finesse if it could be proved either defender originally held J-x-x of clubs, and a diamond finesse was possible if West had been dealt J-x or 10-x of diamonds.

An interesting development occurred early, however, as declarer cashed in his spades and hearts. West had to make two discards and became squeezed. He could spare a diamond on the third spade lead, but had to part with either a club or another diamond on the third heart lead. Most squeezes are planned in advance, but there's no law that says you can't collect on a squeeze if you stumble into one.

FORECAST CREDIT EASEMENT

Canada's Big Boom May Take Breather In 1958

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's big capital investment boom may take a breather in 1958, some federal authorities predicted Thursday, and this may ease the demand for credit.

The demand for loans to finance the construction of factories, supermarkets, roads, schools and hospitals has been a big factor in making money scarce and driving up interest.

Federal monetary restraints were designed to level out the boom; prolong it by spreading construction over a longer period.

High-level thinking was that without action, the boom would rise spectacularly, followed perhaps by a serious recession.

Now there is confidence in authoritative circles that no serious recession is in sight. What is seen is a pause in the swift climb, to be followed by another major climb.

All this may increase the amount of capital available and perhaps reduce interest rates from their current peaks.

BANK REDUCES RATE

The Bank of Canada interest rate eased this week to 4.18 per cent, down from the third consecutive week from the record 4.33.

Canadian capital expansion has continued with minor exceptions all through the post-war years.

Last year the amount of money invested in new construction and machinery and equipment rose to a record $7,900,000,000 from $6,350,000,000 in 1955.

This year the total outlay may swell to $8,700,000,000, though there has been sharp reduction in housing construction.

Authorities said it appears some parts of the economy will curtail capital investment next year.

They predict expansion of the oil and gas industries will swell to new heights. This may be countered to some extent by a decline in manufacturing, lumber and pulp and in some mining, particularly copper.

Prairie Sodbusters Meet New Problems In Changing World

By RUSSELL ELMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer
REGINA (CP)—As farming grows more complex, the Saskatchewan farmer faces problems undreamed of by the Prairie sod-buster.

With rising labor costs, increased mechanization and rigidly-controlled grain marketing, many farmers need assistance in planning, farm financing, use of machinery and soil practice.

Each year thousands get such help. It is provided free by provincial agricultural representatives and specialists who visit farms, and indirectly by research scientists, working at the University of Saskatchewan and experimental farms.

36 REPRESENTATIVES

Driving hundreds of miles weekly over their districts, the 36 representatives brave ice, snow and mud to give the farmer up-to-date information on sound agricultural practices through field days, demonstrations, meetings and tours. But it is largely the better type of farmer, who seeks their advice, attends meetings or promotes 4-H clubs.

"We never come near about 40 per cent of the farmers," said C. G. Casswell, who works out of Melville. "It's hard to help those who won't help themselves."

He said a recent land-use survey of his district's nine municipalities indicated that more than 50 per cent of the 4,000 farms are too small to be paying proportionately; that pastures generally are overgrazed; there is insufficient fodder for livestock; persistent perennial weeds are widespread; many farms do not use commercial fertilizer and many have drainage problems.

But he added that more farmers are seeding cultivated grass; some are developing small water projects; seven municipalities have an active weed control and eradication program; and the agricultural district has the largest number of 4-H clubs in the province.

SPECIALISTS TO ADVISE

Because the agricultural representative has to cover the entire field, specialists cross the province to advise farmers on detailed, technical problems. They also keep the representatives posted on new developments in weeds, soils, irrigation, horticulture, livestock, farm management and farm mechanics.

Typical is weed specialist Vic Beck, 36-year-old University of Saskatchewan agriculture graduate, who estimates he travels 30,000 miles a summer.

"It is easy to convince farmers to spray their grain crop, the main source of their income," he said. "But it is hard to persuade them to adopt practices that won't put money in the pocket immediately."

To a large extent, the specialist bases his advice on the work being done in laboratories at experimental farms and the University of Saskatchewan. At the university, nearly 100 scientists and technicians seek methods to reduce the weed threat, improve the quality of crops and protect animals against disease.

New prairie wheat varieties, says Dr. D. R. Knott, professor of field husbandry, must have good yield, strength, earliness, disease resistance, bread-making quality and high protein content.

SCIENTIFIC DUTIES

Experiments in producing a new rust-resistant wheat by crossing Canadian and Kenyan strains have been favorable; good results also have been obtained in breeding fall rye with European varieties to increase yield; while studies have started in the possible use of nitrogen fertilizers to help increase protein content.

Some of the most important research is in wild oats, which last year caused a major part of the estimated $80,000,000 weed damage in Saskatchewan. Dr. Michael Black, an English specialist in seed germination is working at Saskatoon to try to discover why a wild-oat seed will drop and then lie dormant for seven or eight years before germinating.

Meanwhile, tests are in an advanced stage of new chemical herbicides, designed to kill the wild oat's germinating seeds or to sterilize the oats in the soil.

However, William Selleck, professor of plant ecology, said farmers may be relying too much on expensive chemical control and suggested that in early spring land should be worked shallowly to germinate the wild oats.

"If all the recommendations are followed, I believe we can control wild oats by cultural methods," he said.

30,000 BOXES Rare Fungus Disease Stops N.Z. Apple Order

A rare fungus disease was the difference between Okanagan apples and Nova Scotia apples going to New Zealand.

As it happened, Nova Scotia landed the order for 30,000 cases of apples, which will be the first apples imported by New Zealand from Canada for some time.

New Zealand's fall harvest of apples in March was below normal and Canadian apples are being brought in now so that new season's apples will be available for Christmas.

The Canadian apples are expected to be shipped from Nova Scotia around the end of next month. They will be sold at a price substantially above that for New Zealand fruit, but as they will meet local competition at that time of year, little trouble is expected in disposing of them.

NOT LARGE ORDER

J. B. Lander, general sales manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., said that while the amount ordered was not large, and the loss of that order will not have a great deal of effect upon the overall crop picture.

His full statement follows: "Government authorities at that point refused to accept British Columbia apples because of the reputed existence of a rare fungus disease called 'Isidicorticium laeta.' Plant pathologists here know that this fungus exists only on Vancouver Island and they also isolated one case of it in Queen's Bay, a small area about 60 miles north of Creston. But it has never been known to exist here in our main production zone."

EFFORTS CONTINUE

"A great deal of effort was made to convince the New Zealand Government of our real position in this matter, without avail.

"Continuing effort are being carried on to break the existing deadlock so we may compete for any future business offered, but in this case we could not prevail upon them to relax the very strict regulations they have enforced governing importations, where even a remote threat exists to their own important apple growing production."

Hoffa Declares Teamsters Don't Need AFL-CIO

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—James R. Hoffa, embattled candidate for president of the powerful teamsters union, said today he believes the union could exist without the AFL-CIO, but he added that he hopes the teamsters will remain within the federation.

Hoffa was interviewed shortly after the AFL-CIO ethical practices committee gave the teamsters, in effect, the choice of getting rid of Hoffa and some other leaders or being ousted from the AFL-CIO.

THE WEEK IN REVIEW

UN Opening Tops News

By JOSEPH MacSWEENE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
The 12th session of the United Nations General Assembly opened in New York and Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand was elected president.

Canada's new minister of external affairs, Sidney Smith, made his maiden speech at the assembly, supporting the entry of Malaysia into the UN as the 52nd member nation.

POWERS CLASH

State Secretary Dulles of the U.S. led off the UN general debate by charging that Russia is risking war by its actions in the Middle East. And he said Russia would accept a "frightful responsibility" if it continues to reject Western disarmament proposals.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, in his turn, blamed the West for the tense Middle East situation and declared that Russia "cannot watch impassively over a situation that bears upon its own security." He outlined Russia's disarmament stand and promised that the Soviet Union would work toward an agreement.

THAILAND UPSET

Marshal Sarit Thanarat seized power in a bloodless coup in Thailand, deposing pro-Western Premier Pibulsonggram.

Sarit, commander-in-chief of Thailand's army, grabbed power after ringing Bangkok with troops. Pibulsonggram vanished for a time, but then showed up safely in Cambodia, where King Norodom Suramarit put his own residence at his disposal.

Despite the upset, military advisers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization went ahead with a scheduled meeting in Bangkok. Sarit is said to be anti-SEATO. Nevertheless he promised to continue Thailand's co-operation with the anti-Communist alliance.

ARGENTINE STRIKE

Strikes bred rumors of revolt in Buenos Aires, capital of the uneasy Argentine.

Soldiers with machine-guns and bayonets maintained order. The military took over all public and private cable and telephone company offices, evicting employees who had staged two weeks of sit-down and go-slow strikes for higher pay.

Sympathy strikes by other workers added to the confusion. But an official spokesman denied reports published abroad that the army had demanded the resignation of President Pedro Aramburo's provisional regime.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, more powerful than ever following his landslide election victory in West Germany, let it be known that he is in no mood to cater to Russia.

"West Germany's foreign policy will be a safe foundation for the policies of NATO," said Adenauer, whose Christian Democratic party won the greatest popular vote ever achieved by a German leader in a free election.

Western Europe cheered the Adenauer victory, but it received a sour reaction in East Germany, where commentators bitterly assailed "Hitler storm trooper" tactics.

DEADLY CARGO

A cargo of deadly cyanide was strewn over the ground in Thamesville, Ont., when a train crashed into the truck that was carrying 25,000 pounds of the poison.

More than 200 drums were scattered. Parents feared that kiddies would handle the copper cyanide dust and egg-like sodium cyanide pellets.

The citizens of Thamesville, whose population is 1,017, poined with police and chemical experts to gather up the lethal stuff. Neutralizing chemicals were sent in.

A number of workmen suffered burns. Finally, the poison was all removed and replaced by neutralizers, sand and fresh topsoil. Then the cyanide was trucked away.

PILOT DIES

A Northwest Airlines DC-6B with 62 passengers aboard landed safely at Madison, Wis., after the pilot died while the plane was in the air.

The airliner was enroute from Minneapolis to Chicago when the plane commander, Alfred H. Lohmar, 51, was stricken by a heart attack.

There was ceremony aplenty amid the roar of gun salutes when Governor-General Massey arrived for the first visit by a Canadian Governor-General to the French colony of St. Pierre et Miquelon.

The Canadian navy frigate Outremont, carrying the Governor-General and his party, fired a 21-gun salute to the flag of France. The French frigate L'Aventure fired a similar salute in honor of the governor-general.

Then Outremont fired a 19-gun salute to Governor Pierre Sicaut of St. Pierre et Miquelon, to which L'Aventure replied. The island colony, only French colony in North America, is off Newfoundland's south coast.

SAVE THAT ELM

Aroused housewives turned out in Winnipeg to save a 95-year-old elm that grows in the middle of Wolseley Avenue.

The public works committee had ordered the tree cut down. Twelve housewives defied the workmen who were sent to do the job.

The women said the tree slows traffic, thus protecting children. Mayor Stephen Juba did some fast thinking and finally ordered the crew to leave the tree alone on the grounds of "public safety."

The street, where the tree stands once made Ripley's Believe It or Not as the smallest park in the world, consisting of only one tree.

Sask. Commission Says Farm Power Plan Lags

REGINA (CP)—Saskatchewan's scheme of long-term loans and grants to be administered and financed by the province.

Under the commission's plan, a rural electrification branch would be established under the department of agriculture or the treasury. To qualify for a loan or grant a farmer would be required to pay in cash 25 per cent of line installation costs. The branch would determine on the basis of individual need whether an applicant qualified for an outright grant or a long term loan to cover the balance.

The branch would also make loans up to 100 per cent of the cost of wiring farm homes and buildings.

With the adoption of its scheme, the commission estimates that about two-thirds of the province's 15,000 low-income farms could become power users.

The commission proposes two plans for isolated farms. One would ease the maximum limit on run-off lines, with the user paying full cost of line installation over two miles. The other would supply long-term credit for the purchase of private power systems such as windcharger or diesel plants.

U.K. Minister To Visit Here "Next Time"

A British cabinet minister told a gathering in Vancouver this week that visiting the Okanagan will be a "must" with him on his next trip to Canada.

Rt. Hon. Derick Heathcoat-Amory, agriculture minister in the Macmillan government, made this promise, as much to himself as to anyone else, while addressing the Vancouver Board of Trade.

J. B. Lander, sales manager, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., attended the meeting and sat three persons away from the cabinet minister. Also at the meeting as a guest was another British member of parliament, Harold Montgomery Hyde.

Main topic of the cabinet minister's address concerned the trade position between Canada and the United Kingdom, specifically as it affects British Columbia.

FINE RECEPTION

In references to Okanagan apples, Mr. Heathcoat-Amory said they enjoy a fine reputation in the Old Country and he complimented the growers' sales agency (B.C. Tree Fruits) for good management in the distribution of the crops, according to Mr. Lander.

Mr. Lander was greatly impressed with the ability of the visiting UK minister as a witty, extempore speaker.

Also guests at the board of trade meeting were Hon. Newton Steacy, newly-appointed B.C. minister of agriculture, and B.C. deputy agriculture minister W. McGillivray.

Prelate Is Big Problem

By CARL HARTMAN
BUDAPEST (AP)—Across the square from Budapest's Marx-Lenin Institute, behind the green blinds of the U.S. Legation, Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty poses a problem for both the American government and Hungary's Communist regime.

For almost a year he has not left that island of U.S. soil in the heart of Budapest. The Communists have made it clear that if he does they will arrest him at the door.

The 65-year-old prelate lives in a comfortable three-room apartment designed for the U.S. minister to Hungary.

Visitors to the legation's fourth floor, where the diplomats have their offices, sometimes catch a glimpse of a slightly-bent figure in a black cassock and red skull cap.

Sometimes he will nod and smile politely to a visitor he recognizes, but he does not speak. Officially he is incommunicado.

WALKS IN COURTYARD

His only companions are half a dozen U.S. diplomats who attend the seminary accompanying him on daily walks in a gloomy paved courtyard.

State department policy is to say as little about the cardinal as possible and to permit no interviews. From what can be learned unofficially, he spends most of his time reading and writing. He reads newspapers and listens to a small table radio, mostly to news programs.

The legation supplies reading and writing materials. He has no secretarial or other help.

Every Sunday the cardinal dons his vestments and says mass in his office-sitting-room for a few Roman Catholic employees of the legation. Usually he has one to assist him, and reads the responses himself.

LIKES CAKES

His food comes from the legation's little coffee shop. He has a sweet tooth and legation wives like to bake cakes for him.

Occasionally a movie is run off for him.

Cardinal Mindszenty was admitted to the building on orders from Washington Nov. 4, 1956 when Russian tanks were rolling back into Budapest to crush the revolt.

Students Will Give Resume Of UN Seminar

An assembly period will be held in the Kelowna High School on Monday to hear the report given annually by the students who attend the United Nations summer seminar at the University of British Columbia. This year two students were sponsored by the Kelowna branch of the United Nations Association in Canada, assisted by the Kelowna Rotary Club and the Canadian Legion.

The other three went on their own responsibility. The five students will each speak for five minutes.

Peter Marsh will read the United Nations in Africa as presented by Dr. Cook at the seminar.

Anna Marie Neumaier will review the highlights of the whole seminar.

Brian Miller will try to develop for the student body, the attitude of the students who attended the seminar towards the United Nations Association.

Bob McCormick will provide a few highlights of the international specialized agencies. He will deal largely with UNICEF and UNESCO.

Anne Rowles will sum up the content of Dr. Fred Soward's address.

The purpose of this assembly of the student body is to point the way to further recognition of United Nations on its 12th birthday, October 24.

Mounties Take Wooden Kicker Into Custody

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—The RCMP here has taken over a new service, the storage of wooden kickers.

Townsa Jurvanen walked into the police station last night, sat down and took off his wooden leg. "I'm tired of carrying it around," he told the duty officer. "I would like you to keep it for me until tomorrow."

The police obliged. The leg was stored in a corner and Mr. Jurvanen left—on crutches.
